

Sigríður Hagalín Björnsdóttir

A journalist, deputy head of news and television news anchor at the Icelandic National Broadcasting Service.

Island (Eyland, 2016) is her first novel.

English sample translation, german reader's report and Icelandic PDF and available.

Auður Ava Ólafsdóttir

A novelist, playwright and poet, Auður Ava has received numerous awards for her works, both home and abroad.

c/o: Zulma – zulma@zulma.fr

International publishers: France – Zulma, Italy – Einaudi, Germany – Insel Verlag/Suhrkamp, Denmark – Athene, Norway – Pax, Spain – Alfaguera, The Netherlands – De Besige Bij, Czech Republic – Albatros Media, Romania – Pandora, Taiwan – Aquarius, United Kingdom – Pushkin Press, Slovakia – Slovart, Bulgaria – Colibri, Portugal – Marcador editora, China – Beijing Yanziyeu Culture & Art Studio
World English: Amazon Crossing

Friðgeir Einarsson (1981)

An author, director, performer and creative copywriter.

“The midday-mediation was another change I had reacted badly to at first but gradually learned to appreciate. Changes are often that way; they bother you at first but then you get used to them and often they are an improvement.” – From the story “Role”

Thank you for letting me know includes thirteen stories that revolve around subjects one cannot talk about and other minor trifles.

One of the stories is available in English translation.

Þórdís Gísladóttir

A multi-awarded poet, translator and children's book author.
Óvissustig (Contingency) is the Þórdís' fourth collection.

One of her collections is available in German and Swedish translations.

Jón Kalman Stefánsson

Literary Agent
Monica C. Gram, Copenhagen Literary Agency
monica@cphla.dk

Among international publishers:
Germany: Piper, France: Gallimard, Sweden: Svante Weyler Förlag, Denmark: Batzer & Co., NL: Ambo Anthos, World English rights:, MacLehose Publishers, Spain: Salamandra, Italy: Iperborea, Poland: W.A.B. Publishers, Norway: Forlaget Press, Ethiopia: Fabula Arts Promotion, Czech Republic: Dybbuk, Bulgaria: Janet45 Publishers

Benedikt Publishing
Reykjavík – Est. 2016